Introduction:

In India we can see a long tradition of social enlightenment and social reform. This social enlightenment and social reform movement seems to have gained real momentum in the nineteenth century and the first half of the twentieth century. We can see that the motivation of these social reformers was Western thought and ideology. Rajaram Mohan Roy is seen as the starting point of the Indian social reform movement, from there, Mahatma Phule, Rajarshi Chhatrapati Shahu Maharaj and Dr. Ambedkar to Karmveer Bhaurao Patil; many social reformers and thinkers added ideological thinking and actions to these movements. The writings of all of them in the newspapers of that time, the writing of books on enlightenment and the agitations and movements carried out along with this, show a sincere attempt at social change.

This course is conceived to introduce the students to the social and religious change in India expressed in various social reform movements. Students will explore the significance and impact of prominent social and reform movements. It will help the students to understand how the ideals of rationalism, humanism and universalism were encouraged by the Indian social reformers.
