v. Brief Summary of the Program:

The Department of History organized an educational study tour at Goa, Sindhudurg, Malvan, Tarkarli, Reddy, Shiroda. All places are in Sindhudurg district and Goa state. It was organized 07/04/2023 to 10/04/2023.

Sindhudurg Fort :-

Sindhudurg Fort is a historical fort that occupies an islet in the Arabian Sea, just off the coast of Maharashtra in Western India. The fortress lies on the shore of Malvan town of Sindhudurg District in the Konkan region of Maharashtra, 450 kilometres south of Mumbai. It is a protected monument. It is located in middle of sea in Malvan. Sindhudurg is built on Kurte Island, very near to the coast of Malvan. Malvan being an important port, building a fort near this was an important strategic requirement. Kurte was a perfect island with sufficient rock surface, accessibility and sufficient potable water sources to build a fort, making it the best one amongst the 84 ports along the coast line from Mumbai to Goa. Sindhudurg increased the strength of Marathas and helped them keep a check on the English and Portuguese as well as the pirates. The Bakhar written by Chitragupta aptly mentions this fort as the most invaluable asset to Shivaji Maharaj. After selecting the island for building a fort, the auspicious day for building the foundation was chosen as 25th November 1664. There is a sacred rock near Malvan called "Moryacha Dhonda", which represents has carvings of Lord Ganesh, the Sun and the Moon and Shiv Linga. This sacred rock was worshipped before starting construction of Sindhudurg fort. There are detailed letters which describe many aspects about the vision of building forts of Shivaji Maharaj and the details associated with it. One such letter details out the resources required for Sindhudurg. There were about 500 masons, 200 blacksmiths, 100 Portuguese and 3000 workers who worked for 3 years continuous to complete the fort. The characteristic of Sindhudurg is that the foundation stones are laid down in slots and molten lead was poured to fix them strongly. The lime stone was ordered from central part of the Deccan plateau. Shivaji Maharaj had written specific details on resource management in his letters, and was personally present on 29th March 1667 when the fort was completed. After the death of Rajaram Maharaj in 1700, Tarabai ruled the Maratha Empire from Satara. As per the treaty of Warna between Shahu and Tarabai, Malvan came under her control. By that time piracy had increased near Malvan coast. Major Gordon and Captain Watson captured the fort on 28 January 1765 and renamed it as Fort Augustus. In an Anglo-Maratha truce the fort was returned to Marathas on 2nd January 1766. In 1792 the British again regained the fort by helping Karveerkars against Desai of Nipani

Tarkarli

Tarkarli is a village in Malvan taluka in Sindhudurg district in the Indian state of Maharashtra.<sup>[1]</sup> It is a beach destination and remote place in southern Maharashtra. Few years ago, Tarkarli beach is declared as a Queen Beach of Konkan region. Monthly, Thousands of tourists are visiting this place to rejuvenate and enjoy thrill of water sports activities. All Watersports activities in Tarkarli are going on as per international safety of standards and under guidance of professional instructor(Dive Master) with modern safety equipment. Many scuba diving operators running this activities near Tsunami island, Devbag because of shallow water and low life risk.

Redi Ganpati

Redi Ganpati Temple is located at a distance of around 20 km from Vengurla and is renowned for Manganese mines found near the temple in abundance. It is believed that the statue of Lord Ganesha enshrined in the temple was found from a mine in 1976. Possessing the height of around 15 ft, the idol of Lord Ganesha has been identified in sitting position. The site is frequently visited by devotees as well as tourists during the celebrations of Ganesh Chaturthi.

Shiroda

The name "Shiroda" is derived from "Shivanath", which translates to "Drawn from god".

Shiroda is very popular for its Kamakshi Temple. People visit this temple on Amavasya or New moon day of every month. Every year on the day of Shivaratri, a grand temple festival or zatra is held which is attended by thousands of devotees from Goa as well as Karnataka and Maharashtra.

STUDY TOUR REPORT: 2022-2023

B.Sc.II and B.Sc. III Electronics

In this academic year 2022-2023 Electronics Department of D.K.A.S.C College, Ichalkaranji had arranged a study tour for B.Sc.II and B.Sc.III Students to Kallamawadi Hydro Power Station, Radhanagari, Malavan, Sindhudurg, Tarkarli on 14-15th March 2023.

The Objective of this tour was to increase the general knowledge of students.

During the tour we observed following things. At the 1st day we visited to Kallamawadi Hydro Power station. Hydro Power is generated by using electricity generators to extract energy from moving water. Historically people used the power of rivers for agriculture and wheat grinding. Today, rivers and streams are re-directed through hydro generators to produce energy, although there are pros and cons as far as local ecosystems are concerned.

Then we visited to sidhudurg fort and malavan beach. We enjoyed on Tarkarli beach.

On the next day we were visited to Devbag beach. We enjoyed the different rides in the sea.

The invaluable ensemble of 34 caves at Ellora in the Charanandri hills of western India's Maharashtra State. The caves at Ajanta are excavated out of a vertical cliff above the left bank of the river Waghora in the hills of Ajanta.

Ajanta Caves

Place :	Ajantha Caves

Tehsil/ Taluka :	Sillod
State :	Maharashtra
Latitude :	20.533313
Longitude :	75.749987

Ajanta caves are located in the Sahyadri ranges (Western Ghats). These are a series of rock-cut caves on Waghora River near Chatrapati Sambhaji nagar in Maharashtra. There are a total of 29 Buddhist caves in Ajanta of which 4 were used as Chaitya or prayer halls while 25 were used as Viharas or residential caves. The Ajanta Caves have been made an UNESCO World Heritage site in 1983. They are located in a valley, about 4 kilometers (2.5 mi) from the town of Ajanta, in the northwest of the state. Buddhist monks lived in the valley, from 2nd century BCE to about the 7th century CE. They used some of the caves to make temples. Ajanta Caves exemplifies one of the greatest achievements in ancient Buddhist rock-cut architecture. The artistic traditions at Ajanta present an important and rare specimen of art, architecture, painting, and socio-cultural, religious and political history of contemporary society in India. The Ajanta Caves constitute ancient monasteries and worship-halls of different Buddhist traditions carved into a 75-metre wall of rock.

The caves also present paintings depicting the past lives and rebirths of the Buddha, pictorial tales from Aryasura's Jatakamala, and rock-cut sculptures of Buddhist deities.

- First Period Caves (Satavahana) - Caves 9, 10, 12, 13 & 15A

Caves no. 9, 10, 12, 13 and 15A were the earliest constructed caves. The caves show a heavy influence of the Hinayana or Theravada group of Buddhism. A group of researchers including Walter Spink estimate the period of construction to around 100 BCE to 100 CE. This group believes that the caves were built under the patronage of the Satavahana Dynasty. Date the period of construction during the reign of the Mauryan Empire. The main distinguishing feature of the caves of the earlier period is their emphasis on the stupa structure rather than sculptures. Both caves 9 and 10 are stupa based with the worship hall and caves 12, 13 and 15A are based on the vihara (where monks reside) style of construction. Also, the Hinayana phase in Buddhism did not worship Buddha as a Hindu God.

- Second Period Caves (Vakataka) - Caves 1-8, 11, 14-29

Also known as the caves from the Vakataka period there is some discrepancy over the exact time of construction. The period of construction was, in fact, concise and lasted from 460 to 480 CE. This phase also started accepting women as nuns, and unlike the Hinayana school which denied pleasure, the Mahayana form was open to the desires between a man and woman. Cave 19, 26 and 29 are chaitya Grihas or the prayer halls. The rest of the caves are viharas or abodes for monks. The incomplete caves were abandoned after the death of Harishena. The first period caves were left abandoned for more than three centuries before the rule of Harishena. The king along with his Prime Minister Varahadeva and sub-king Upendragupta commissioned the digging of the new caves. The excavation was stopped around 468 because of threats from the Asmaka kings and work continued only in Cave 1 which was commissioned by Harishena and Cave 17-20 that were under Upendragupta. Only Cave 26 continued to be under construction because the Asmaka kings commissioned it.

Ellora Caves

Place :	Ellora caves
PIN Code	431102

Tehsil/ Taluka :	Khuldabad
State :	Maharashtra
Latitude :	20.022638

Ellora Caves are a rock-cut Hindu, Buddhist and Jain cave complex, with artwork dating from the period 600–1000 CE, located in the Sambhaji nagar District of Maharashtra, India. The caves, situated at a distance of around 30 kilometers from Sambhaji nagar, are famous for their amazing architecture and style. Ellora is a UNESCO World Heritage Site. Ellora monuments were built during Hindu dynasties such as the Rashtrakuta dynasty, which constructed part of the Hindu & Buddhist caves, and the Yadava dynasty, which constructed a number of the Jain caves. These caves are manmade temples cut into an enormous stonework hillside, constructed by generations of Jain, Hindu and Buddhist monks. Ellora Caves comprise of 34 cave temples from the period between the 6th and 11th centuries AD. Among these temples 12 are Mahayana Buddhist caves that date back to 550-750 AD, while 17 are Hindu caves belonging to 600-875 AD and 5 caves of the Jains from 800-1000 AD. The Kailasa Temple, in cave number 16, is the most outstanding of all.

Mural paintings in Ellora are found in 5 caves, but only in the Kailasa temple, they are somewhat preserved. The paintings were done in two series - the first, at the time of carving the caves & the subsequent series was done several centuries later.

The caves of the Buddhist group, Cave 10 ( Visvakarma or Sutar- ki -jhopari, the Carpenter's cave), Cave 11, and Cave 12 (Teen Tal, or three-storied monastery, the largest in this category) are particularly important. These caves mark the development of the Vajrayana form of Buddhism and represent a host of Buddhist deities. The prominent caves of the Brahmanical group are Cave 15 (Dasavatara , or Cave of Ten Incarnations), Cave 16 ( Kailasa , the largest monolithic temple), Cave 21 ( Ramesvara ) , and Cave 29 ( Dumar Lena). Amongst these, Cave 16 is an excellent example of structural innovation, and marks the culmination of rock-cut architecture in India featuring elaborate workmanship and striking proportions. The temple is decorated with some of the boldest and finest sculptural compositions to be found in India. The sculpture depicting Ravana attempting to lift Mount Kailasa, the abode of Siva, is especially noteworthy. The remains of beautiful paintings belonging to different periods are preserved on the ceilings of the front mandapa (pillared hall) of this temple. The Jaina group of caves (caves 30 – 34) is exquisitely carved with fine, delicate sculptures, and includes fine paintings dedicated to the Digambara sect.

We enjoyed sunrise in Baga beach and it was very nice experience after full enjoy on beach then started our next journey on science centre at 11:30 A.M.

Then next we arrived to Panji where our main destination 'The Goa Science Centre'. The Goa Science Centre is a science museum located on New Marine Highway, Miraman Panji. The centre also houses into active exhibits inside the buildings and presents science shows for young children daily. ex- 3D shows and Digital planetarium for all ages.

In 3-D shows, we showed a Life of fish. It was amazing show. We experienced 3D experience. It was like we were part of that science, also understood the principle of 3-D. A Life of fish. Sometimes, terrified scene are showed actually coming out of screen. We enjoyed it.

The Digital planetarium was also amazing. There we reached in digitally 'The Sun and Our planet'. We actually experienced sun as front of us. We yet were learned the sun and sun-spots electromagnetic field of sun and also of our earth, its significance, how it helps us how it protects us. But at planetarium of Goa we saw it properly. Which made our view clear about the studied knowledge. It was liked that we were revising our whole knowledge of sun, sunspots, sunbeam and the earth which were studied already.

Gathering the whole knowledge, we had a small but relaxing break on a minamar beach. Here we enjoyed sunset. We played on beach. Then at night we were stay at Hotel. The first day of tour was completed.

On the Next Day 21th Feb. our Journey started from Mangesh temple. Temple is nice clean and decorated. one get piece of mind once to enter the temple got the blessing from almighty Mahadev god. Also seen huge Rath, every year procession in Jan end or Feb start
